Tetradontium, one of the very rarest and least collected of our genera is described, but Leucodon and Thelia, two very common and easily recognized genera are omitted, as are also Philonotis and Homalia. Under Plagiothecium. P. Muellermanum alone is mentioned although a rare and difficult species, while the omnipresent P. denticulatum will be collected by almost every student on his first serious collecting trip.

The colored plates of mosses, lichens and hepatics are scattered throughout the work with apparently little reference to the accompanying text, a most inconvenient arrangement for students; possibly it was not planned for such.

Some of the common names given are interesting as well as original and the author evidently has not exhausted her talent for she is able to call Funaria hygrometrica "The Golden Cordmoss" and the "Watermeasuring Cordmoss." Hypnum uncinatum becomes the "Hooked Boat hooked Moss," H. splendens the "Glittering Feather Moss" and H. triquetrum, the "Triangular Woodrevealer."

A figure of the seta and capsule of Mnium hornum with calyptra clasped around the upper part of seta is described as a seta bearing a bract.

Our readers are advised to spend an hour or two studying this book as many other points of interest will doubtless be discovered.

It is greatly to be regretted that popular scientific books should be so often written by people who do not have a first-hand knowledge of the subject, and that publishers with the resources of Doubleday, Page & Co. should issue such an inferior book when a first class book of this nature would have been so helpful to the people whom the BRYOLOGIST and its editors are striving to interest in the study of these plants.

SULLIVANT MOSS CHAPTER ANNUAL REPORTS.

Report of the President.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE SULLIVANT MOSS CHAPTER:

The Sullivant Moss Chapter now stands at the beginning of the second decade in its life. The membership is nearly seven times that of the first year; the field of work, from a correspondence study of common mosses, has broadened to include material in any way connected with the bryophytes or lichens of North America; the BRYOLOGIST has quadrupled in the number of pages, and advanced from a quarterly department in the Fern Bulletin to an independent bimonthly. Perhaps the Chapter was founded at the psychological moment, doubtless the great increase of popular interest in nature has been a favoring factor, but be that as it may, the success of the Chapter has been due to the energy and self-sacrifice of the early members.

Regarding the future, two things are to be urged upon the members. First, a more intensive study of geographical distribution, in which each member can help by the careful investigation of any locality. Secondly, an increase of the interest in the Exchange Department. The past year has seen the beginning of the distribution of specimens from foreign localities.

To continue this it is necessary to offer more frequently those species that are peculiar to this continent, especially those of limited range. It is hoped that a general effort can be made to stimulate this department into full activity.

The opening of the new year brings to a close my tenure of office as President of the Chapter. At this time I wish to assure all members of my sincere appreciation of the help that they have given me during the three years just past. Without their ready cooperation, which was always forthcoming, the prosecution of the chapter work would have been impossible. Most of all do I acknowledge the kindness of those who have so patiently borne with me during the delays in the determination of mosses; the demands of school work have, I fear, too often crowded out other things. To the Chapter and to all its members I extend hearty greetings for the new year.

EDWARD B. CHAMBERLAIN,
Retiring President.

Report of the Secretary.

During the past year, the Chapter has added twenty-five new members to its roll, many of whom live in other countries than the United States. The Chapter has lost thirteen by withdrawal and five by death, therefore begins the year 1908 with one hundred and seventy-two members.

The herbarium has been increased by a number of foreign contributions. Mr. Nicholson has sent a packet of British mosses, Mons. Renauld a packet of European mosses, and Mr. Okamura a fine lot of Japanese mosses. Very few of these last are of species found in North America.

An effort has been made to insure the herbarium but the insurance companies are unwilling to do so until the herbarium is better housed and provided for.

Through one of our French colleagues, all the Philonotis in our collection will soon be correctly determined.

A great many of the contributions from North America are duplicates of what is already in the herbarium. These should by some means be available to Chapter Members for increasing their collections.

The thanks of the Chapter are due Mr. Chamberlain for his efforts in conducting exchanges with foreign members.

The herbarium is again the richer this year by contributions from many of our American members; Messrs Chamberlain, Foster, Dupret, Bonser, Brenckle, Holzinger, Haydock, Nichols, Mrs. Smith, and many others who have listed exchanges in the BRYOLOGIST. The secretary wishes to thank the others officers for their help and suggestions.

Seattle, Wash.

JOHN W. BAILEY.

The Report of the Lichen Department by Mr. G. K. Merrill, is promised for the March number.

ANNIE MORRILL SMITH, Treasurer.

REPORT OF THE HEPATIC DEPARTMENT.

Interest continues. The Herbarium numbers one thousand and sixty-seven specimens; of these two hundred and ninety-eight were turned in this year. The whole collection represents eighty-three genera and three hundred and ten species. There remain perhaps one hundred not ready to be placed in the Herbarium until next year. There are many duplicates and I have been distributing four hundred of these recently with duplicates of my collecting.

The following States, etc., are more or less represented: Canada, Connecticut, District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Maryland, Maine, New Jersey, New York, New Hampshire, North Carolina, Nova Scotia, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and West Virginia. We have but a few specimens from Iowa, Massachusetts, Minnesota and Mississippi. Will members from these and unrepresented States send in specimens during the coming year?

Respectfully submitted,

CAROLINE COVENTRY HAYNES,

Highlands, New Jersey.

REPORT OF JUDGE OF ELECTION.

There is also offered for sale, two complete sets of the late Prof. Clara E. Cummings' exsiccati, Lichenes Boreali Americani. The sets comprise 280 numbers and are particularly interesting from the fact that for the most part they are illustrative of Tuckerman's specific conceptions. Originally published at $7.50 per century, they are now offered at $10.00 per set. In addition to the foregoing, two incomplete sets, the numbers in each comprising 1 to 140, 191 to 210 and 220 to 280, are offered at a price of $6.00 for each set. The prices are net. Make checks payable to, and address for further particulars regarding special prices if entire lot be taken,
